

---

Project Profiles - Landmarks & Historic Buildings

---

Guardian's Coatings have been used to protect this historic church in Portugal as well as many other historic buildings.

---

Project Profiles - Landmarks & Historic Buildings

---

This historic building in Switzerland was protected by Guardian Coatings.

---

Project Profiles - Landmarks & Historic Buildings

---

Guardian Graffiti Shield has been used to protect this historic building - Town Hall, Auckland, New Zealand - providing both graffiti and pollution protection. The coating is an impregnation coating with no significant change in the look of the surface. The coating is also hydrophobic and will still allowing the surface to breathe.

---

Project Profiles - Landmarks & Historic Buildings

---

Guardian's Water Based coating has been used to protect Parliament House in Perth Western Australia. An important consideration was the low odour benefits of the coating that was so important on building sites where other trades are working.

---

Project Profiles - Landmarks & Historic Buildings

---

Guardian has been used to clean and protect the Law Courts in Portugal.

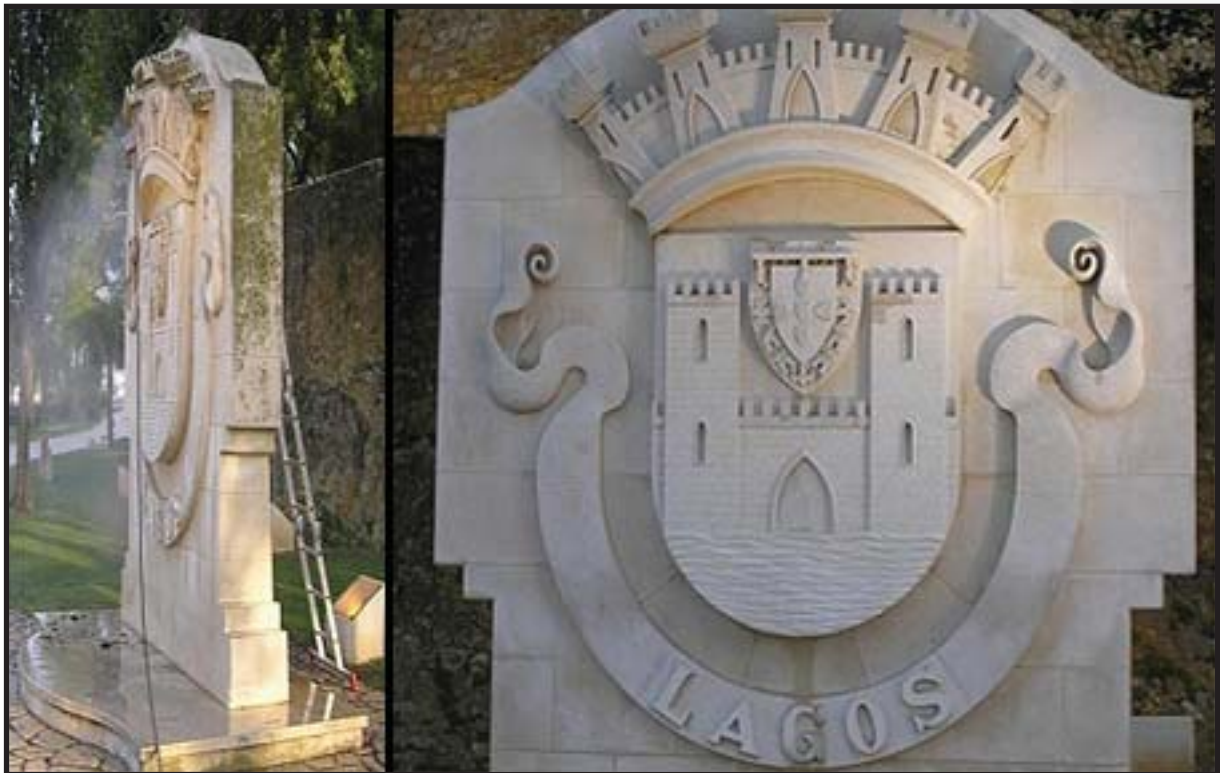

---

Project Profiles - Landmarks & Historic Buildings

---

The cleaning and protection of porous surfaces is important to protect against graffiti and pollution, including moss and algae. This monument in Lagos, Portugal is an example of the type of surface that should be protected to ensure there is not permanent damage.

Project Profiles - Landmarks & Historic Buildings

This high profile building, the "Little Castle" in Sydney, New South Wales, was protected by Guardian's Coating allowing the graffiti to be easily removed.

---

Project Profiles - Landmarks & Historic Buildings

---

It is important to provide protection from the elements for historic structures like this statue where the base and also the statue itself is protected.

